

CAMERA AND SECURITY SYSTEMS

Security camera systems can be one of the most preferred systems in providing security and precautions. Apart from ensuring the security of civilian facilities such as workshops, factories, warehouses, hangars, shopping malls, Business Centers, Public Institutions and Organizations, Sports Halls and Centers, oil platforms, pipelines and dams, border surveillance, protection of headquarters, military facilities and police stations, coastal-port They are also used in the protection of military areas such as surveillance. Since the subject is to provide security, every process from the projecting stage to camera assembly in camera systems can be of great importance. For this reason, security camera installation should be done at the right points in order to use the camera system effectively and efficiently. Especially in large areas and high points, scissor lifts are used because of the necessity of assembly.